To protect their right to wear their
 Caste - marks and keep their heads
 Did he in the dark age perform the supreme sacrifice -
 To help the weakly he went to the utmost limit,
 He gave his head but never cried out in pain -
 He suffered for the sake of his faith -
 He lost his head but revealed not his secret
 He disdain to perform musader or jagger's tricks,
 For such men of God with shame -
 He built the basis of moral clay
 And went to the abode of God -
 No one hath ever performed an act as noble as his

As Tegh Bahdur passed, the world was with sorrow stricken -
 A veil of horror kept the earth,
 He was given a victor's welcome by the hosts of heaven

EARTH DAY ACTIVITY

In this day and age, it is a tragedy that being wasteful has become 'second nature' to humans. The effects of pollution have become such, that individual efforts are quite useless to curb it if every one does not participate. Waste generation is more or less inevitable in everyday life. Human waste, sanitary products, food peels, seeds, etc. are just some examples that we cannot help. However, we can try to reduce what we can, such as e-waste, plastic products which are one time use. All efforts make a difference, ranging from buying refills instead of throwing away plastic pens to using organic waste as compost. A very important requirement is segregation of waste. World history has shown us that segregation has been the bane of humanity, this is the one area it is required in. It is very important to segregate dry and wet waste. Let's all put our hands together, and try our best to keep our planet as green as ever!
